

Ophthalmic Instruments, Inc. Participating in Monterey Fall Symposium of the California Optometric Association

This three day event provides a platform for connecting with hundreds of doctors of optometry

IRVINE, Calif. (PRWEB) November 15, 2018 -- Ophthalmic Instruments, Inc., a leading distributor of quality ophthalmic instruments, today announced its participation in the California Optometric Association's Monterey Fall Symposium. This three day event will be held November 16-18 at the Monterey Marriott. The show provides a platform for connecting with hundreds of doctors of optometry.

For this event, Ophthalmic Instruments will be showcasing the Haag-Streit BI 900 Slit Lamp and the Octopus 600 visual field as well as products from other manufacturers. Doctors will find numerous products that support their daily activities in providing excellent patient care while maintaining an effective and efficient practice. In addition, physicians will be able to demo the Haag-Streit BI 900 Slit Lamp and be entered into the slit lamp imaging contest for which great prizes will be given away.

“Participating in this event is always important for our company,” said Scott Shone, president of Ophthalmic Instruments, Inc. “We share in the Association’s values of professionalism, education, proactivity, innovation, integrity and collaboration. Our company was founded on the same simple principles of professionalism, honesty and integrity. We collaborate with doctors to provide a comprehensive line of quality and innovative products that are professionally installed and maintained with a personal touch. And our measurement of success is retention of our customers, repeat business, and enthusiastic referrals of Ophthalmic Instruments to other physicians.”
